CHAMPAGNE LAURE D'ECHARMES BY GRUET BRUT NV

Buxeuil, France

Established in Buxeuil in 1670, the Gruet family has always been closely linked to the Côte des Bar, a historic region of Champagne where charming villages such as Les Riceys and Neuville-sur-Seine are located. A classic blend of the famous AOC (Pinot Noir, Chardonnay, and Meunier), this Champagne stands out for its extraordinary value for money, allowing you to enjoy a quality Champagne without depriving yourself. It is part of one of the Gruet family's traditional cuvées and is aged for at least two years. It is round, floral, and very balanced on the palate.

CHÂTEAU LABEGORCE 'ZÉDÉ DE LABEGORCE' MARGAUX

Bordeaux, France

Chateau Labergorce has a long history in northern Margaux, the estate having already been owned by the Gorce family for centuries by the time of the French Revolution. After that it was split into three and sold off. The properties were reunited (though not in their entirety) by the late Hubert Perrodo, who bought Chateau Labergorce itself in 1989, and the other two chateaux in the early twenty-first century. His daughter Nathalie now manages the combined estate. Floral Margaux elegance is present on the nose and the palate shows an appetising blend of black fruit and savoury, spicy notes. Good concentration and a long, poised finish.
